FARM FORECLOSURE ACT TO BE TESTED IN LOCAL CASE BY FEDERAL COURT

November 20th Date Set
For Initial Hearing
In Irvington Case

The eyes of all Southern Alameda county are focused on Irvington this week pending the outcome of the first real test of the Frazer-Lemke amendment to the National Bankruptcy Act involving an attempted foreclosure by Edwin H. Hirsch on the property of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Sloan.

The first skirmish in the case was balanced in favor of Mrs. Sloan recently, when the federal court of the Northern District of California, stopped foreclosure proceedings after Mrs. Sloan had petitioned under the amendment. Hirsch had bought the Sloan mortgage from his sister, Mrs. Lillie F. Weilheimer, also of Irvington, and had brought suit to foreclose. The court had named November 20 as the date of the first hearing in the matter.

The Frazer-Lemke amendment was added to the National Bankruptcy act at the last session of congress to strengthen the existing amendment 75, called "Agricultural Compositions and Extensions." Both Amendment 75 and the Frazer-Lemke act were drawn up to stop the increasing number of foreclosures on farms throughout the nation.

Amendment 75 did not entirely meet the situation. There were too many creditors who would not scale down sufficiently to allow the farmers a chance to refinance their indebtedness. The Frazer-Lemke act, passed to meet this situation, in effect gives the farmers a six-year moratorium if they fail to get a suitable adjustment under Amendment 75. President Roosevelt stated at the time of his signing the Frazer-Lemke bill that it was a last resort measure and that he hoped not many farmers would need to use it to protect themselves and their property from selfish creditors. It is the opinion of the federal government, expressed through Amendment 75 and the Frazer-Lemke bill, that increasing numbers of farm foreclosures throughout the nation should be stopped.

The Sloan vs. Hirsch case will demonstrate how much cooperation can be obtained under these laws. It will be watched with keen interest in this district.

JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY BE STARTED HERE

Young Businessmen Feel
Need for Progressive Organization

Tentative plans for the organization of a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Niles will take the attention of a number of the younger Niles men next week, following consideration of the value of the proposed group to the town.

The idea germinated during the past months among the younger businessmen who felt the need for some sort of civic organization suited to their progressive point of view.

The Pleasanton Junior Chamber has offered their assistance to the new Niles organization, as have a number of the older and established businessmen in Niles. The younger group plans to complete their organization next month.

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER THANKED BY CLUB MEMBERS

Enthusiasm over the last meeting, at which Mrs. Herbert Hoover was guest of honor, will lead to other programs of a similar nature, according to members of the program committee of the Country Club this week.

Mrs. Hoover, who had been invited by the club some time previous to the meeting, arrived from the east just in time to attend. Members were charmed to meet the former first lady, and a letter of thanks was sent to her, bearing the good wishes of the club.

The program committee, headed by Mrs. George Coit, met yesterday at the latter's home to lay plans for future occasions. The group hopes to have Dr. Amelia Reinhardt, Mills College president, as guest at the December meeting. A number of equally good programs will be forthcoming.

Those on the program committee, in addition to Mrs. Coit are: Mrs. E. B. Hodges, Mrs. J. C. Shinn and Mrs. Tom Maloney. Mrs. E. Dixon Bristow represented the music committee at yesterday's meeting.

Thanksgiving cards may be found at the Hayward Drug Co., 950 B street, Hayward. While there take a look at the new designs of Christmas cards.—N15c

G. BRUNELLI, 71 TAKEN BY DEATH LAST WEDNESDAY

Was Native of Italy and Widely Known In This District

Guglielmo Brunelli, 71-year-old Niles pioneer resident passed away last Wednesday evening at his home on Third and J streets, Niles, after a period of illness.

The deceased had made his home here for many years after coming to America from Italy, his native land. Regarded as a man of industry and honor by his many friends, Brunelli had been active here until illness necessitated his confinement at home. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Brunelli, and three sons, Romeo, Eugene and William, all of whom are well known in this district. The sons attended local schools.

Brunelli was a member of Court Mazzini, A. O. F., San Francisco, and Maple Camp, No. 146, W. O. W., of Centerville.

Funeral services were held Saturday from Chapel of Pains, Centerville, to the Corpus Christi church, Niles, where a requiem mass was sung, with Father Emmet O'Connor officiating. Interment followed in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery just south of Hayward.

Twenty-Six Boy Scouts On Bay Cruise Sunday

W. H. Ford Gives Troop
Time of Their Lives
On Long Trip

Twenty-six Niles Boy Scouts were given the time of their lives Sunday, when William H. Ford, of Niles, gave them the run of his yacht "Arequipa," on an all-day cruise about San Francisco and San Pablo bays. The scouts were accompanied by members of the scout committee and several others. Clarence Crane, scoutmaster, was unable to go.

Leaving Niles at 7:30 Sunday morning in automobiles furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Ford and members of the committee, the enthusiastic group embarked at the Grove street pier in Oakland, where "Skipper" Charles Albright and the "Arequipa" were waiting. The initial leg of the cruise was out around the bay bridge pylons and Goat Island, as Ford explained methods of construction and plans for the great span. Port Richmond was visited next, where the scouts saw the huge Ford Motor Company plant and interesting yacht harbors. Red Rock, called a "two-bit" island by the boys, was the next point of interest, where Ford mentioned the possibility of a run-in with "Minnie," the sea serpent. He explained that the monster was a cross between a shark, a whale and Paddy's mule, and stated that it was fond of small boys. No scout legs were dangled over the side for several hours.

After crossing San Pablo bay, the "Arequipa" was guided up the Petaluma slough, under numerous draw-bridges, to the famous egg city, where the company disembarked for a short time. On the return trip the weather cleared and Gladford Viery, a welcome stowaway, brought out his movie camera and shot a number of scenes of the boat and the boys.

The boys' interest in the scenery and boat was perhaps surmounted by their interest in the "cats," of which there was such quantity and profusion that distended youngsters were demanding pay from each other to eat more at the end of the day. The

COUPLE HURT WHEN MACHINE HURTLES THROUGH FENCE

Miss Barbara Rogers, of Mission San Jose, suffered a severe laceration of the head and numerous abrasions and bruises Sunday night when the car in which she was riding with Lester Silva, of the Stockton Pass road, left the highway near the Overacker station and crashed through the fence. Silva suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Silva is said to have stated that he was not driving fast when the machine suddenly got out of control. In an attempt to get it back on the road, he locked his wheels and ploughed along the fence.

The couple was treated by Dr. N. Catherine Holden, Niles physician.

Local Man Will Be On Air Monday Night

RAGING FIRE BURNS HOME NEAR NILES LATE TUESDAY

Thought to have started from excessive heat of a wood-burning stove, uncontrolled flames swept through the home of Mr. and Mrs. Diego Duarte, on the Niles-Centerville road Tuesday afternoon, doing damage estimated at $6,000. Nothing was saved from the structure.

Mrs. Duarte, who was upstairs at the time the blaze started, smelled smoke and went down to investigate. She discovered the wall and wood box, near the stove, in a mass of flame. She made a futile attempt to quench the blaze then sought assistance. Phillip Souza, of Centerville, and Fire Chief Joe Paschote, of Newark, happened by and raced to turn in the alarm. The Centerville and Niles departments responded and waged a losing battle with the conflagration until a make-shift connection was made to a near-by pump. By the time that the firemen's main lines were brought into play, the house was a gutted shell.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

HIT-RUNNER WILL HAVE HEARING TOMORROW

Sisto Rodriguez, Decoto man, was arraigned at the Niles justice court Friday afternoon on a felony charge of failing to stop and render assistance after running down and perhaps fatally injuring Manuel Garcia, also of Decoto, on October 31.

Rodriguez is said to have struck the elderly man, then sped away, leaving his victim in the road. Garcia was taken to the Alameda County hospital, where he is still in a critical condition.

Rodriguez will appear before Judge J. A. Silva for preliminary hearing tomorrow afternoon.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

POPULAR TO BE A MURDERER

Murder is the safest business in California! If you do not like your wife, bump her off. The jury will call it an accident, or if you are convicted, the courts will say it was unconstitutional or something like that. If she is a flirt, and leads on some callow and romantic boy to play with her while you are at work, and then some day a slip-up is made and you, the "injured" husband, appears too soon—why, pull a pistol from your pocket and kill the foolish kid—that's the "unwritten law" that keeps the "home fires" burning, and the guns smokin'!

By all means if you want excitement, kill anybody, but preferably, the man your wife smiles at. If you don't happen to like your spouse and want another female, and have no time or inclination to go to Reno, swat your wife over the bean, and tell the police she slipped on the kitchen floor.

But don't steal a battery out of a man's car, or a ham from the butcher. That's crime.

If you kill your old man, that's insanity.

If you have a rival for the affection of your sweetie, the married man with the fat pocket-book, cut her up, and if you have two rivals, cut 'em both up, ship 'em in a trunk and dump 'em into the ocean. If you get caught, you're a poor little girl who wasn't raised right. If your father was a minister, that accounts for it, and the jury or the governor or somebody or other will let you off with ten years in the bug-house, Sundays in the hills on a picnic with the warden's family.

It's a great world for the killers. Dead men can tell no tales, and apparently have no friends. If you are dead you're dead and no jury can bring you to life, no court on earth can make you walk again, and talk again and love again. But the man or woman who cut short your miserable existence, is a hero, and instead of being punished is to be medaled.

Yes, murder is a safe business—in California!

"OUR MAN MICKEY!"

Once in a great while public officials happily disappoint us. Not often does the leopard change his spots nor the Ethiopian his skin, yet there is authentic record that the sinner sometimes turns saint.

About thirty years ago when we were a very young man, and a very enthusiastic one, politically and otherwise, Nebraska was in the throes of one of its bitterest election campaigns. In those days men had the courage of their convictions, and newspapers principles upon which they would risk financial solvency rather than compromise a point of political honor. Today we have a cowardly press, most of whose editors have the backbone of a jelly fish. Few publishers can see over the top of the cash register. The cry of injustice is drowned by the tinkling of advertising dollars.

To resume our subject, the Nebraska campaign of thirty years ago surged to and fro around the candidacy of Governor Mickey. He was running for reelection on the Republican ticket. He had been unmistakably a railroad tool during his first term, and a decided and powerful effort had been made to beat him for the renomination. It was in the days of the old convention system. Edward Rosewater, magnificent fighting editor of the Omaha Bee, was out to "get" Mickey. Rosewater had put Mickey in the governor's chair two years previously, and now was ready to unseat him because the governor had surrendered the functions of his office to the lobbyists of the Burlington railroad machine.

We remember quite as well as if it were yesterday, that Rosewater was unable to outmarshal the Mickey forces in the convention, but he seized upon a chance remark made by Hank Ager, political dopster for the Burlington, and made it an issue of the campaign. Ager had said previously to the convention balloting, rather carelessly, where others could hear, that "we have decided on Mickey as our man." So the Omaha Bee referred to the governor, day in and day out, as

IMMUNIZATION OF CHILDREN TO BE ENDED NEXT WEEK

Work Being Done By Township Doctors and Health Nurse

Immunization of children against diphtheria in Washington township schools is continuing this week, according to Mrs. O. W. Ebright, public health nurse.

Inoculation of children at the Alvarado grammar school took place yesterday. Newark pupils will be given treatment today and those at Irvington tomorrow. The Warm Springs and Mission school children will be inoculated next week.

With the parents consent, all children in the schools are being inoculated with the toxoid to arrest an incipient epidemic of the dread disease in this district. There have been a number of cases. Mrs. Ebright stated that most of the parents are consenting and that the immunization will be complete.

The work is being done by local doctors, with the assistance of Mrs. Ebright and Miss Bradley, public health nurse of the Pleasanton district. Parent-teacher organizations and parents in the various school districts are assisting with the clerical work.

Children over ten years of age are given two doses of the toxoid three weeks apart. The smaller children require only one. Mrs. Ebright said. She added that it will take several months for the toxoid to affect complete immunization.

"JOY RIDE" ENDS IN CANYON ACCIDENT SATURDAY

One Niles boy was slightly injured and three more badly shaken Saturday afternoon when an impromptu joy ride in a borrowed car wound up with a plunge over the steep embankment in Stony Brook Canyon. Joseph Correa suffered a severe cut on the throat. Others in the car were Elmer Andrade, John Franco and Elmer Correa.

According to reports, the boys quietly "borrowed" a machine from the elder Andrade, and started on their sally. They chose Stony Brook Canyon, dangerous at best, drivers say. Coming down the grade the Andrade boy slipped the car out of gear, then discovered too late that the brakes would not check the speed. In attempting to stop he ran the car into the bank then caromed off over a twenty-foot cliff.

Sheep Everywhere

Before and After Shearing.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

SHEEP owners of the United States produce about 350,000,000 pounds of wool annually, or enough to supply each inhabitant of this country with a wool garment weighing nearly three pounds.

The lowly sheep, from which comes the world's yearly wool supply of slightly less than three and a third billion pounds, is no respecter of persons or geography. A meeting of all the world's wool growers would reveal a motley gathering of all creeds and colors, from Icelanders to South Africans, from Canadians to Argentinians, from Siberians to Indians. There also would be present natives of many islands of the seas.

The sheep-raising industry is pretty well confined to the temperate zones, however, though some flocks graze near the Equator in high altitudes, and others are found in the Arctic, where there is sufficient forage.

The world's sheep population is more than 500,000,000—a quarter as great as the human population. Australia, although a comparative youngster in the wool industry, is the world's leading wool producer. India and China are the outstanding sheep countries of Asia. Argentina and Uruguay have the heaviest sheep population in South America. The greatest concentration of sheep herds in Africa is along the Mediterranean coastal zone from Gibraltar to Tunisia, and in South Africa. Every country of Europe raises sheep, but in Norway, Sweden and Finland there are few flocks, scattered over wide areas. The United States, with upward of 50,000,000 head of sheep, is the only country in North America that has taken to wool growing in a big way.

Where America's Sheep Are.

About four-fifths of the sheep in the United States graze in the mountains and on the plateaus and plains west of the Mississippi river. Texas, which has been dubbed the "Cotton State" and the "Sulphur State" because of its supremacy in the production of these commodities, also has earned the right to be called the "Wool State." In 1932, its contribution to the United States' pile of wool was about 57,000,000 pounds, or about one-sixth of the wool produced in this country. Montana, whose sheep gave up more than 32,000,000 pounds in the same year, ranked next to the Lone Star state, with Wyoming, Oregon, Utah, California, New Mexico, Idaho, and Ohio, each of which produced more than 15,000,000 pounds, following in the order named.

As in the case of cotton, historians and naturalists have been stumped by the query, "when and where was wool first used?" Sheep and wool are mentioned in the Bible, and it is known that the Romans practiced sheep breeding. Some of their prize animals wore jackets to protect the fleece. Shortly after the beginning of the Christian era an Italian took several sheep from Italy to Spain to breed them with the native merino sheep. Incidentally, the merino sheep produced the finest wools, and have been bred with many other inferior sheep to improve the latter's fleece.

The growth of the wool industry in the United States has been phenomenal. Two years after Capt. John Smith and his followers landed on the Virginia coast the first sheep were introduced into America at their settlement. Twenty-one years later a shipment of the fleecy animals from Europe was landed on the Massachusetts coast. Indians' appetites, predatory animals and severe winters made serious inroads on the colonial flocks, so most of the animals were kept inside town walls, on islands, and on peninsulas fenced off from the mainland.

Growth of the Wool Industry.

As cotton clothed the colonists of the South, wool clothed those of the North. Private homes then were America's woolen factories. The American wool trade began when sheep-owning families exchanged their wool and surplus homespun for other commodities. With the increase in colonial population the demand for wool cloth rose and the federal government as well as local governments encouraged wool growing.

By 1810, just two centuries after the sheep arrived from England, there were 7,000,000 sheep grazing over the settled area of eastern United States. Four years afterward there were 10,000,000. About this time foreign wool flooded the United States markets and the wool industry was as hard-hit as other industries, in the panic of 1819.

As large American cities and towns took form, demand for homespun waned and factory-made wools took their place. Prices paid for wool by manufacturers encouraged sheep raising so that by 1840 the range of the animals had spread from the Atlantic to every state east of the Mississippi, as well as to Missouri and Louisiana.

With the western migration in the middle of the last century went sheep. By 1860, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Arkansas, Texas, California and the areas that now are Oregon and Arizona, joined the wool-growing regions. Two decades later, there was not a state in the Union that did not have a sheep population of at least 50,000. By 1933 the "national flock" had grown to more than 50,000,000.

To sheep, many regions of the world owe at least partially their discovery and growth, for these animals often have been the companions of pioneers. Magellanes (formerly Punta Arenas), Chile, the southernmost city of South America, was saved by the fleecy animals. The city was an important coaling and ship supply station for craft doubling Cape Horn before the completion of the Panama canal. The canal stripped it of former prestige, and even many of its staunchest citizens prophesied its doom. Smart business men, however, saw the possibilities of sheep industry on the surrounding mainland and nearby islands, and turned their faces from the sea to the land for their livelihood. Thanks to sheep, Magellanes still is a thriving port.

How Fleeces Are Handled.

While, in a few remote regions of the United States, homespun is worn, factories have almost entirely erased the home industry from this country. One of the several hundred modern American manufacturing companies normally operates 60 wool mills that employ 40,000 workers. A display of one company recently included 3,500 different styles of wool fabrics.

Wool greatly differs in quality. The same breed of sheep in the same country may produce different qualities of wool. The best wool grows on a sheep's shoulders and sides.

When a sheep is sheared the fleece holds together. The whole fleece then is tied and with other complete fleeces is placed for shipment in bags containing from 100 to 500 pounds each.

Why
Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the right dose of a properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a more natural movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It gently helps the average person's constipated bowels until nature restores their regularity.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store, ready for use.

CONTEST FUND TO CLEAR MORTGAGE ON CLUB HOUSE

Cake Judging Event Is Huge Success; 28
Prizes Awarded

More than ninety cakes, arranged in rows for the wise judgment of Martha Lee, home economics expert, filled the club house at Centerville with an ambrosial aroma Friday, when the Country Club of Washington Township cake contest, a unique event, took place. The contest was arranged by the Ways and Means committee to raise funds wherewith to finish clearing the mortgage on the club house. The event was eminently successful in this respect as in all others.

Interest in the event, raised from a competitive standpoint among local housewives, reached a climax as the judging began. Mrs. W. L. McWhirter, Mrs. R. L. Pond and Mrs. G. I. Norris, expert cake-cutters, sliced the delicious morsels for the inspection of the judge.

The first, second and third prizes went to Mrs. Milton Munger, of Alvarado; Mrs. J. C. Wasley, also of Alvarado; and Mrs. Emily Fields, of Niles. The ladies had made angel food, chocolate and sunshine cakes, respectively. Twenty-five other local women were awarded prizes. Six were given honorable mention.

Immediately following the judging, the cakes were offered at auction. The three top cakes were purchased by Mrs. J. R. Stagg, Mrs. Madeline Santos and Mrs. J. D. Norris. The remaining cakes and food up for sale, were disposed of in fifteen minutes, club members stated. Throngs of people who had hoped to purchase one of the cakes were disappointed. Fifty more cakes could have been sold, members declared.

According to Mrs. Roland Bendel, Ways and Means chairman, the contest was given for the purpose of raising funds to help in clearing the mortgage on the club house. The event was such a financial success that that end has been attained.

Other members of the Ways and Means committee are: Mrs. Henry May, Mrs. J. L. Olson, Mrs. Harry Searles, Mrs. E. E. Dias, Mrs. R. W. Mendenhall, and the Misses Christine Anderson and Elizabeth Dusterberry.

W.U.H.S. ALUMNI IN 6 TO 0 WIN OVER AMADOR MONDAY

Washington high school alumni gathered from classes all the way from 1925 to 1934, bucked, kicked, passed and fought their way to a 6-0 win over the Amador alumni in an Armistice Day classic at the Centerville field. The teams were sponsored by the Washington township and Pleasanton Posts of the American Legion. The game was played for the benefit of the Veteran's Hospital at Livermore.

Washington received the kickoff and made three first downs, then lost the ball when a pass was intercepted on the 17 yard line. Beginning from that point the ball seceded in Pleasanton territory until the gun sounded for the half. In the second quarter, George Coley, lanky half sized a Pleasanton pass on the twenty-yard line and raced 60 yards, to be downed on the Pleasanton 20. The threat ended with the half with Washington tossing passes in a scoring attempt.

Washington again received and after regaining the ball began a series of effective backs with Raso and Kerns packing the ball. Ramos faded back and shot a pass to Raso in the flat. The diminutive back twisted his way to the goal line. Score 6-0.

Pleasanton's only threat came in the last quarter when they fought the ball to the Centerville 4 yard line. Scoring attempts came to grief against Pine and Dinsmore and the whole Centerville team. Mel Teeter, John Brown, Dinsmore, Pine, Phippen, Medeiros and Ted Logan did some effective work in the forward wall. Raso, Kerns, Coley, Fontes and Ramos were the outstanding backs.

"Bully" Pine, Centerville captain and coach, stated his satisfaction with the outcome and said that he looked for the game to become an annual event.

Starting lineup: ends, ederios and Fontes; tackles, Phippen and Teeter; guards, Logan and Dinsmore; center, L. Pine; halfbacks, Rose and Cahill; fullback, San Kerns; quarter, Wes Raso.

HUSKERETTES WIN CLASS C GRID PENNANT

Apparently not content with just one championship, the Washington high school footballers brought in another pennant last Thursday when Coach Nunes' Class C aggregation beat the Livermore midgeits in the deciding league game on the Centerville turf.

Played to a standstill in the first half, the Huskerettes came back in the third quarter to break Nakagawara loose on a reverse. He whisked over for the tally. In the fourth quarter Costa intercepted a pass to chalk up the second touchdown.

Among the outstanding line-men in the midgeit team was Bob Solon, termed a "mean" tackler, who will graduate to varsity soon. Nakagawara, also varsity material will be lost to the team. He is leaving on a two-year trip to Japan. Costa, Luna, Kitashima and Hirabayashi will bid for varsity next year. The latter C player was captain.

With their goal line uncrossed in league competition, the Huskerettes totalled 48 points to win their division.

The Welfare Club will meet at the home of Mrs. George Colt on Monday, November 19.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Dusterberry were San Francisco visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Alexander were Centerville visitors Saturday.

HUSKERS VANQUISH COWBOYS TO TAKE ANOTHER PENNANT

Regli's Gridders Romped To 19-6 Victory In Spectacular Game

Aroused by a first quarter score, the Washington Huskers, unbeaten Centerville eleven, thumped home to a decisive 19 to 6 win over the Cowboys at Livermore Friday afternoon, to corral another league championship for Coach Jess Regli, able mentor. The victory was gained after the early Livermore score and an acute attack of fumble-itis made things look bad for the champions.

The Washington machinery began to tick in accustomed style when Medeiros, full, plowed for the first Husker score from the three-yard line after a sustained drive. The second tally was netted by a sparkling 53-yard scamper in the third quarter by Al Muniz after a smash over center. Muniz added another 6 points in the same quarter with a 60-yard sprint after intercepting a pass.

Among the individual backs on the field, Al Muniz, Centerville powerhouse, was far and away the most effective. Muniz packed the ball 31 times for a total gain of 328 yards, yes, 328! St. Mary's and Santa Clara scouts were seen to be rubbing their eyes time and again as this Muniz kicked, passed and ran himself breathless. With training, care, and coaching, Muniz can go far in this game, football. He's one of the best high school backs on defense as well as offense to be developed in this section of California for many moons.

Louis Manuel, chunky center, did some effective work in the line, as did Dinsmore, Duarte, Ferreira, Hikedo, Phippen and Sinclair.

Season statistics for the eight games show the Huskers superiority. Total points scored, Washington 247, opponents 39. (only 12 of these on varsity.) Total yards gained, Washington 2287, opponents 1607. Coach Jess Regli states, with his careful grin, that the "season is the best ever," which is an expansive statement for Jess.

Knights Will Have Smoker Next Week

Members of the Centerville Council of the Knights of Columbus are looking forward to a week from tonight to the annual smoker and program. According to members of the organization the event will be a memorable one.

Last Thursday night the local group had their annual Memorial Service, in commemoration of deceased members. The service was held at the Parish hall.

KEEP DOOR LOCKS OILED

Regular lubrication of the door locks accomplishes more than merely making the doors easier to open and close, states L. G. Evans, director of roadside service of the National Automobile Club. It is a money-saving proposition. If the locks are allowed to go unlubricated for long periods, internal troubles are likely to develop. Their correction will require removal of the upholstery.

MYSTERIOUS THIEF RETURNS LOOT IN DAYLIGHT

A mysterious daylight robbery, in which two valuable guns were lifted from the office of Frank Madruga, Centerville garageman, was complicated late yesterday when the guns reappeared as quietly as they were stolen. Madruga, who stated that the two weapons were worth more than $125, is at a loss to explain the phenomenon.

Madruga, who had brought the arms to his place in contemplation of an attempted duck-shoot, noticed the theft late last week. He stated that the theft must have been done while the place was unlocked as there was no evidence of breaking in. The return of the guns was made with equal skill.

Madruga, who had reported the incident to Tom Silva, is of the opinion that some of his friends were giving him the run-around. He has not dared to accuse anyone for fear of barking up the wrong tree.

AGED NEWARK MAN GOES TO FINAL REST SUNDAY

A native of Mexico, and an adopted citizen of the United States for 72 years, Lorenzo Corona, 76-year-old Newark man passed away at his home on Harley road late Sunday night. He had been a resident of the Newark section for more than 20 years.

The deceased is survived by his wife and twelve children, all of whom are resident in this state.

Funeral was yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock under the direction of the Chapel of Palms. There were services at the St. Edward's church with the Rev. Father Falvey officiating. Interment was in the Holy Ghost cemetery at Centerville.

CARTER'S MEMORY PROVES VERY POOR

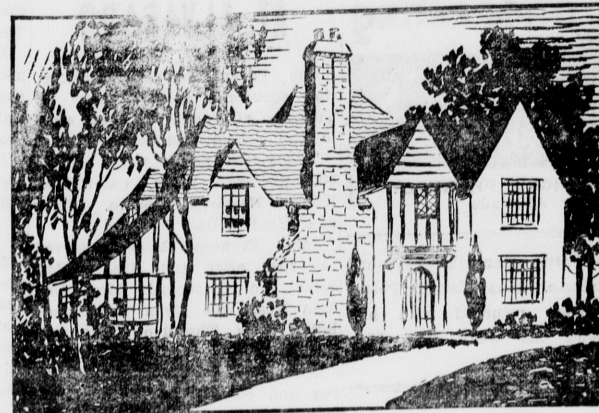

Trial of Orlando E. Miller and his subsequent conviction on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with his Re-limeo Film Syndicate, gained considerable space in the bay city dailies last week.

The defense, expected to use another week, suddenly ended its testimony and cleared the way for submission of the case last Thursday.

Among his last witnesses was Congressman Albert E. Carter, of Oakland. He was asked if he, as a lawyer, had approved the legality of the transaction whereby Miller, according to the government, borrowed $40,000 just long enough to satisfy the State Corporation Commission which demanded a $100,000 sinking fund. The representative, pleading a loss of memory and unable to recall details of the ten-year old transaction was dismissed without cross-examination.

Miller defrauded investors out of thousands of dollars.

FIREMEN TO ASK NEW MEETING POLICY NEXT WEEK

Agreed that future meetings of the Alameda County Firemen's Association should be conducted on a slightly different basis than those of the past, fire chiefs of Washington township, and their assistants, will go to Oakland next Thursday evening, to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the organization to decide on policy.

According to local firemen, the meetings were at one time made extremely interesting with speakers on various pertinent subjects of value to firemen in their work. During the last few months, it is said, the gatherings took on a political aspect, of little interest to the majority of rural departments.

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

"Our Man Mickey." That chance remark of Lobbyist Ager almost cost Mickey the election. The normal Republican majority of around forty thousand was cut to about two thousand.

From that campaign on, Mickey was a changed man. He was hammered so much on his railroad connections, that it opened his eyes to the truth. Within his own heart he made a confession that he had, indeed, been the governor of the transportation companies and not of the people of Nebraska. To the great surprise, and we might add, consternation of his powerful backers, during his new term he never lost an opportunity to demonstrate his independence, and became one of Nebraska's best governors.

Maybe Merriam has had his eyes opened to his rather shabby conduct of the past twenty years. It is possible that never before has a real campaign been made against him, nor until the past month has a true picture of his questionable public conduct been presented for his edification and enlightenment. His inelegant record in Iowa saw the light of day for the first time during the past few weeks. While the public is not particularly interested in what a man may have done twenty years ago, still the parading of skeletons of long ago is rather disquieting to any man's conscience, which in later years may revive itself into something more than a slumbering substance.

The governor-elect could not avoid hearing what the people said about him over the radio, and while the press was gagged, there did remain a few papers in the state with courage enough to publish the Merriam record. For the first time, then, the Long Beach gubernatorial candidate learned what most people thought of him. His election was not a reflection of high regard for that record, rather the registration of fear of something new proposed by the Epic candidate Sinclair. The vote was against a sharp departure to the "left," rather than confidence in the man Merriam. We believe Merriam is smart enough to know that.

With the allotted three score years and ten, already gone, Merriam can hardly hope that he will live his four-year term out. What would be more natural, then, that in his last years he would wish to make a clean, constructive record. His eyes are opened—and the road is plain.

Will "Our Man Mickey" hit the sawdust trail, and literally speaking, with one foot in the grave unfurl the banner of Social Justice and tear down the dirty rag of Special Privilege—AND BE A MAN AGAIN.

Planned Printing—At Township Register.

Did you ever stop to think?

By Edson R. Waite

Money spent at home helps you and your city. Money spent away from home helps some other city. This habit of sending away to distant points for printing that you can get at home is becoming too common. I quote an editorial from the Penang Gazette and Straits Chronicle, which should be read carefully by every businessman. The editor says:

"We have received an interesting little booklet issued by Messrs. Mansfield & Company, Ltd. The booklet is a mine of information and gives details not only for traveling to and from Europe but of local leave and extended holiday trips which can be made by vessels of companies for which the firm act as agents. We were particularly glad to note in the foreword the following mention of Penang:

"The firm of Mansfield & Co., Ltd., was founded in Singapore in 1868, with branches in Sandakan and Penang. Although the Sandakan branch is no longer in existence, that at Penang continues to grow in importance."

"And just one word of complaint. Why was it considered necessary to send to Europe for the production of the booklet? It is a neat affair, but there is nothing in it beyond the ability of Malayan firms to produce.

"'Spend in Malaya First' would be a good motto for those of us who earn our daily bread in this country."

WOULDN'T it be a good plan if someone wrote a poem to Thanksgiving? For year after year, ever since the times of our sturdy Pilgrim Fathers, an autumn day has been set aside in this country for rest and Thanksgiving for all our blessings. So important is this subject of giving thanks that it is the very first thing we teach to little children.

And yet this wonderful institution of Thanksgiving has never inspired one of our more important poets to write exclusively on this subject so far, at least, as the writer of this article and the editors of Bartlett's Familiar Quotations know. If anyone knows of such a poem, it would be a good plan to send it in to the editor of this paper.

In all seriousness, this unique American festival would furnish a splendid theme for a splendid poem, and one of our present day bards ought to write one. If this be editorializing in the news columns, make the most of it!

Poets Eat

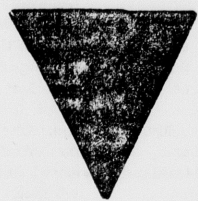

But poets eat—sometimes. And Thanksgiving is apt to be one of those times if they are fortunate enough to have a single solvent relative left. So let's see what sort of a Thanksgiving dinner would be calculated to provoke a poet to action—and verse. Here is the sort of menu we would suggest:

Crab Cocktail
Roast Beef with Yorkshire Pudding
Fried Potatoes
Mashed Hubbard Squash
Creamed Cauliflower
Hot Finger Rolls
Alligator Pear and Cucumber Salad
Pumpkin Pie
Stem Raisins Coffee Hard Candies

Crab Cocktail: Flake one 3½-ounce can crabmeat and add one-fourth cup chopped sweet pickles, one-fourth cup chopped celery and one-half cup catsup. Chill well and serve in lettuce-lined cocktail cups. Serves six.

Pumpkin Pie: Mix three-fourths cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon and add to one and one-half cups canned pumpkin. Add two tablespoons orange marmalade and two well-beaten eggs. Add one and one-half cups scalded milk and pour into pastry lined pie tin. Bake in a hot—450 degree—oven for ten minutes, then in slow—325 degree—oven for about thirty minutes or until knife comes out clean. Cool. Cover with whipped cream and sprinkle with grated orange rind. Cuts in six or eight pieces. Be sure that the coffee is of a brand that is vacuum packed.

Do They Borrow Your Collection Of Circular Letters?

HAVE YOUR neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters that the users think are as good as advertising in a country newspaper?

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the modest country newspaper. Not long ago an advertising expert is quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a certain well known metropolitan paper is read, on average, for the space of twenty minutes, while the average country newspaper has a "reading life" of three hours to its credit! It is kept around the house for a week and everyone in the family takes his turn in going through its pages. And its readers are really increased for the reason that oftentimes the paper is borrowed by those not fortunate to be a subscriber.

There is nothing in the way of an advertising medium that circulates in Washington Township that is as persistently read and digested as regularly and thoroughly as the Township Register.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE RAZES BARN NEAR NILES SUNDAY

A destructive blaze, thought to have started from a shorted circuit in an automobile, swept through a barn on Niles early Sunday morning. Niles firemen were called to fight the flames.

The younger Amarant, arriving home about 1:00 a. m. Saturday night, drove his car into its usual place in the barn. Firemen thought that shorted wires heated slowly until the car began to blaze. The flames were fed by thirteen tons of hay in the loft.

Loss in the fire included a horse, cow, automobile, farm implements and fruit equipment, boxes, ladders and trays. There was no insurance.

According to Tony Alves, fire chief, a nearby tank-house was beginning to blaze when the department arrived. A pig, caught in the flames, broke itself loose and was saved. Alves stated that there were no hydrant connections on the place.
